Our investment beliefs

The Public Trust Investment Service (PTIS) investment beliefs are intended to provide a basis for strategic management of the investment portfolio.

The investment beliefs are not a checklist to be applied to every decision. They are a guide for making decisions that often require balancing multiple, inter-related factors.

● Investment Belief 1

An effective governance and decision making structure adds value by seeking to preserve and create the long term financial security and sustainability of our customers.

● Investment Belief 2

Portfolio management should be focused on current and future beneficiaries individual specific investment objectives, including risk tolerances and investment horizons.

● Investment Belief 3

Both the capital and income component of total return are relevant to the investment objective.

● Investment Belief 4

Strategic asset allocation (SAA) is the dominant determinant of portfolio risk and return. A strategic asset allocation is likely to outperform an active short term approach.

● Investment Belief 5

Risk and return are interrelated – higher returns are only achievable through increased risk.

● Investment Belief 6

Environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors impact investment returns and risk.

● Investment Belief 7

Investment markets are competitive and dynamic, with active returns very difficult to find and constantly changing source.

● Investment Belief 8

Costs and taxes matter and need to be effectively managed.

New Zealand Bond Fund

Fund Profile

The NZ Bond Fund has a benchmark investment weighting of 35% in NZ government bonds and 65% in selected investment grade NZ corporate and local authority bonds.

Fund Strategy

Capital preservation is considered to be the key criteria for fixed interest and therefore all securities must have a minimum long-term credit rating of BBB- (commonly referred to as investment grade).

The highest potential return (and highest potential risk) comes from a portfolio of solely investment grade corporate bonds – rather than government stock. However, the risk adjusted return is only marginally better than that of a portfolio of government stock. Furthermore, in periods of extreme market stress, government stock significantly outperforms corporate bonds.

The optimal strategy for the fund is judged to be a benchmark investment weighting of 35% in government stock (in accordance with the weightings of the S&P/NZX Government Stock Index) and 65% in investment grade corporate bonds (referenced to the weightings of the S&P/NZX Investment Grade Corporate Bond Index).

The credit quality of the index portfolio is enhanced through applying a quantitative overlay that we have designed. The factors in the overlay include; excluding subordinated securities, perpetual or callable securities and securities issued by non-resident entities with a credit rating less than AAA. Diversification in addition to that represented by the S&P/NZX Investment Grade Corporate Bond Index is achieved by limiting the maximum exposure to individual issuer according to credit rating, the exposure to credit rating bands and exposure to industry categories.

New Zealand Cash Fund

Fund Profile

The NZ Cash Fund invests in short-term NZ bank deposits and securities plus NZ money market securities.

Fund Strategy

Potential returns increase moderately as the investment term increases. However, the volatility of return increases at a faster rate than the return improves. Consequently the best risk adjusted return is represented by the three month investment term. Accordingly the fund invests in accordance with the maturity profile of the funds benchmark (short-term bank securities).

The potential performance of the fund is enhanced by investing in securities that offer a higher return than assumed in the index.

The credit risk and revaluation risk of the portfolio is controlled by having a high short-term minimum credit rating of A2 and a cap on individual issuers and industries.

Fund Objective

To match the performance of the Fund's benchmark over any rolling 12 month period.
